A BEAUTIFUL "MUM" SHOW.

Mrs. Lamb Lifts the Canvass and Displays

a Magnificent Garden of These Favorites.

Mrs. M. Lamb, of 122 Clay street, who has long been known as one of the most successful Chrysanthemum growers of this city, will tomorrow begin her regular fall show. She charges only five cents admission, and all the receipts go to the fund being raised by the Missionary Society of West Market for the 20th century contribution for the erection of the school in China, to the memory of Miss Haygood, the missionary who died in China.

Mrs. Lamb has a beautiful collection of these magnificent flowers. Under her canvass there are nearly one hundred varieties, many of them most beautiful specimens. The show will continue for some time. One admission entitles one to go in again at any time. A visit to Mrs. Lamb's garden will amply repay any lover of these flowers, which many people think the most beautiful of all.

Accommodation Exhausted at the A. & M.

There are at present about 160 students at the A. & M. College for the colored race, located in this city, with more to come in. The college is for both sexes. This is the utmost extent of its dormitory capacity, in fact, that capacity has already been strained, there being as many as six students in some rooms. The college charges

$5 per month for board, $1 for room, and $1 for tuition. It is doing an excellent work for the race.

The Last Flicker.

The Democrats at Randleman will have a jubilee tonight, the last flicker of this flaming campaign. Solicitor

A. L. Brooks will address them. Mr.

Brooks spoke at Lexington Thursday night and was to go on to Asheville and Hendersonville to speak Friday night and Saturday, but found that

Hon. Thomas Settle had appointments at those places at that time, and that the Republicans would not care to divide time.

A Stranger Having Fits.

Policeman Jeffreys last night found a man at the depot having fits. The stranger wouldn't or couldn't tell his name, where he came from or where he wanted to go. He was given a resting place in jail, and continued to have fits. No effort to find out anything about him has been successful.

Death of Mrs. Kirkman.

Mrs. J. E. Kirkman, who lived just south of town, died Saturday. A surgical operation had been performed the day before. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. M. Johnson yesterday.

ARRESTS IN INDIANA

CHARGE ATTEMPTED BRIBERY.

REPUBLICANS TRYING TO BUY DEMOCRATS IN BLOCKS OF 25.

Democrats Threaten Wholesale Arrests Throughout the State—Final Estimate of Republicans is 294, and Maybe Over 300. Democrats Confident—Croker Claims the Fight is Won—Stone's Hopeful Estimate. Local Election Gossip—On the Eve of Election.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5—Democrats claim to have discovered a plot of Republicans to buy up the Democratic vote of this State, in blocks of twenty-five. William H. Evans, a prominent Republican, the custodian of the commercial club, is under arrest. Five other warrants for prominent local Republicans have been issued. The Democrats say they will cause a wholesale arrest of Republicans throughout the State today. The specific charges on which Evans was arrested, was the sworn statement of George F. Kuhn, the Democratic judge of election in the first precinct of the tenth ward, who alleged that Evans offered him fifty dollars to count twenty-five Democratic votes for the Republican ticket. Parks M. Martin, chairman of the Democratic State committee, claims his agents have accumulated evidence of similar bribes having been offered to Democratic election judges throughout the State.

The Republican managers in New York today put forth as their final estimate that McKinley and Roosevelt will certainly have 294 votes, and they hope to see it exceed three hundred.

Richard Croker declared this morning that the Republicans have given up the fight, and that the city and State of New York will be swept by Bryan and that he will be elected.

Vice Chairman Stone said in New York this morning: "Our final prediction, based upon the latest and most accurate reports, is that of the so-called doubtful States, the Democrats will carry Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas and Nebraska, with a good chance in New Jersey and Delaware. The battle is on in New York, Illinois and Ohio. If we carry either of those States Bryan is elected. In all three we have a better chance than McKinley. We feel sure of New York and Illinois."

The Republicans claim Indiana by 30,000. The Democrats declare they have won the State, but give no figures. Republicans claim to be expecting a record-breaking vote in Illinois, but the Democrats claim the State. A small plurality is claimed by the Republicans in Nebraska.

In the local field there is great interest. Everybody is talking Bryan and McKinley or Carr and Simmons.

Capt. R. P. Gray returned Saturday night from Wilmington, Fayetteville and other points in the east, and reports much Carr strength down there.

Mr. A. B. Andrews, Jr., of Raleigh, who spent yesterday here, was very confident of the nomination of Mr. Simmons. He was enthusiastic.

Mr. Tom Tate is giving his friends a tip today. He has a cousin who has charge of the National Democratic headquarters in New York. Saturday Mr. Tate wrote him that odds of ten to one were being offered down here on McKinley and asked what he thought of it. He received a wire this morning saying that no such odds could be had in New York, and that he, and probably the other Democratic officials, believed that Mr. Bryan would be elected. Mr. Tate regards this, which was a private message, and Mr. Tate asked for the worst—not to be given out till after the election—as a piece of inside news, and therefore valuable.

Registrar Workman hauled out an old ballot box which was used in the dispensary election, for the senatorial box at his precinct. Under the word "Dispensary" on the box he wrote the word "Simmons," wherefore a Carr man remarked that this association was fatal. A leading Republican turned the box all over and carefully scrutinized it as Mr. Workman was passing Republican headquarters, and remarked that it looked like a plain, ordinary box, and he didn't see any trick about it by which a majority of several hundred could be turned into a minority.

OUT AT KEELEY.

The Attendance for August and September Was the Largest for Years in the History of the Institute.

The number of patients at Keeley Institute during August and September was the largest for years. The attendance has somewhat fallen off at present pending the election, but Col. Osborne's correspondence indicates that he will have even more soon after the election than during August and September.

The work of Keeley Institute has assumed its rightful place not only in this State, but in all this section. Its necessity and its efficiency have been demonstrated beyond any question. It is as certainly a philanthropic institution as is that of a general hospital. It is safe to say that among the honored names of men whose research and discovery have detracted from the sum total of human suffering and added to the other side of the page, the name of Dr. Keeley, the discoverer of the treatment, who died a few months ago, will have a high place.

TO DISPLAY ELECTION RETURNS.

Merchants and Manufacturers' Club Will Give the Public a "Set Up."

The Merchants and Manufacturers' Club have arranged for wires from both the Western Union and the Postal Companies to be run into the club rooms tomorrow night. A corps of operators will be on duty all night; and the members will have the news as fast as the votes are counted. The club rooms will not be opened to the public, but the club has not forgotten the public, but will furnish them the returns also.

A canvas will be stretched across the street from Fariss' drug store to the Hotel Guilford and stereopticon views of the figures will be displayed. This is wholly a "set up" by the club to its friends, the public, and they are all entirely welcome. The service will no doubt be highly appreciated.

Mr. Gentry Receives a Diamond Pin.

Mr. Gentry, who has held the position of chief clerk in the superintendent's office at this place for several years, and who was recently made chief clerk to General Joseph H. Sanns, at Salisbury, was the recipient of a handsome diamond pin yesterday, the gift of his office associates. The pin was presented with an appropriate speech by Mr. Thos. Bernard, and in receiving it Mr. Gentry made a very happy reply.

Mr. Gentry is succeeded here by Mr. T. C. Gales.

Another Greensboro Couple to Wed.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Miss Emily McDowell to Mr. William Sims Fimberlake, which event takes place at the home of the bride on Lindsay street. Wednesday evening, November 14th, at 8:30 o'clock. The contracting parties are well known here and have a host of friends who wish them much happiness.

The Banks to Close Tomorrow.

All the banks of the city will close tomorrow—cause: election. The banks have an agreement that, except on legal holidays, that they shall act in concert in the matter of closing. A meeting of representatives was held this morning, and they agreed to take a rest tomorrow.

IN THE HOUSES OF THE LORD.

FAITHFUL FOLLOWERS ASSEMBLED IN SPITE OF THE BAD WEATHER.

Dr. Smith Tells the Story of David and Goliath and Draws Lessons Therefrom. Union Services at Westminster—Notes From the Other Churches—The Music.

Church attendance was very limited yesterday morning owing to the very bad weather but the clouds having "rolled away" during the day, large congregations attended in the evening.

Last night Dr. Smith preached on David and Goliath. The three points illustrated and dwelt upon were: David's zeal in the service of God, exemplified in the horror with which he heard the giant's challenge to the armies of Israel, and the alacrity with which he volunteered to fight him; David's courage as shown by his bold attack upon the "heathen champion" who stood eleven feet, four inches high and wielded a sword through an arc of thirty feet; and, third, David's faith, as illustrated by his utmost confidence in his ability, through God's help, to slay his antagonist. The lessons drawn were concerning the indifference of professing Christians; the true bravery and heroism required to do right now—the day of heroes and heroines is not past—in the face of adverse criticism, scorn and ridicule, and the need of faith in God. The sermon was clothed in choicest language and the story of the young musician's battle with his huge enemy most graphically told.

Union services of the Grace and Westminster congregations were held at the latter church yesterday morning. Rev. T. M. Johnson, who was to have preached, being called to the country to conduct funeral services, Rev. Dr. W. L. Grissom preached. There were no evening services. Rev. C. E. Hodgins has not yet returned from Red Springs.

Rev. W. I. Fry, of West Durham, preached in the West Washington street church yesterday morning. The congregation was small and services were held in the Sunday school rooms. Rev. Mr. Johnson, the pastor, is preaching in Mr. Fry's church in Durham.

"I remembered God and was troubled," was the text from which Dr. Rowe preached a most excellent sermon last night. Although these words of the Psalmist were spoken of the children of Israel in their captivity, yet they are the cry of an individual soul. God is a being that when we contemplate him it must produce emotions, either good or bad. His very nature makes it impossible for us to do otherwise.

You may divide the world into two classes, those who contemplate him with pleasure and those who regard him with displeasure. The Christian contemplates God with pleasure, the sinner with displeasure. Here is the test of our spiritual condition. Do we think of God with pleasure, or with fear and dread and displeasure? The speaker made a strong appeal to his hearers to examine into their hearts and see how they stand towards their maker.

A large congregation was present and close attention was paid throughout the entire sermon.

"Draw nigh unto God and he will draw nigh unto you," was the subject upon which Dr. Rowe based his remarks at the morning service. There are two ways of drawing nigh unto God—by reading and studying his word, and by communing with him in prayer. Whenever a man does not draw nigh unto God there is in his heart some sin, some desire for the gratification of a carnal appetite that keeps him away.

The weather was so inclement that only a few persons braved the elements and came out, but those who did so, felt themselves amply repaid.

There were no services at St. Barnabas church yesterday. The heating arrangement of the building was out of fix, which, together with the bad weather, made it advisable to keep the church closed.

MONTGOMERY'S RICH GOLD FIND

PRONOUNCED THE BEST FOUND IN THE STATE IN MANY YEARS.

The Archdale Leggin and Glove Company—A Monster Rattle Snake—Miss Richardson Receives—The High Point "Mum"—Show Next Week—Mr. Tate Wins Prizes for Fine Birds.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, Nov. 3.—Parties coming up from Candor, in Montgomery county, last evening tell of a rich gold mine discovered near that place. Experts and miners who have been there pronounce it the richest find in this State in many years.

The Archdale Leggin and Glove Co. is a new enterprise for our neighboring town. The company manufactures all kinds leggins and gloves, and tons of skin rugs. It is probably the only concern of the kind in this State.

Rev. J. C. Davis, D. D., of Concord, will lecture in the Episcopal church next Thursday evening. Subject: "History of the Episcopal church." The Friends Orphanage located near here, has on exhibition at Matton's drug store a potato weighing five pounds.

A number of rat traps which had been shipped to the High Point Hardware Company remained in the depot over night and strange to say, captured nine large rats without being baited or even fixed for use.

Again Mr. A. E. Tate, a prominent poultryman of this place has won prizes on his fine birds. This week at Winston he won first and second prizes on his hens. This speaks well for Mr. Tate's prize winning stock, when it is known that Vanderbilt's birds were entered in the contest.

Miss Floy Richardson received at her home on Thomasville street yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Miss Mary Alice Tate received the cards. Smilax, ferns, roses and chrysanthemums were used in the decorations. Miss Patterson rendered music for the occasion. At 3 o'clock luncheon was served.

Mesdames Moses and Caesar Cone, of Greensboro, were here this week buying furniture for their summer home at Blowing Rock.

The managers of the High Point Chrysanthemum Show have decided to hold the show in the Anchor warehouse on Thursday and Friday nights of next week. Oysters and ice cream will be served in connection. Handsome prizes are offered and there are many beautiful plants to be exhibited, some coming from neighboring towns.

The material train is here this week completing the side track running from the depot to the Alma furniture factory.

The largest rattle snake ever killed in the State as far as known is on exhibition at the Enterprise office. It was killed at a saw mill near Star, by Mr. Joe Kanoy. It measures six and one half feet in length.

Mr. J. R. Ridge is building a house on Tate street. The house of Mr. W. B. Vall's is ready for the inside work.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The postman may not be literary, but nevertheless he is an important man of letters.

GLORIOUS NEWS

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been too low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

HARD ON HERDERS.

Even the Government Takes a Hand in the Oppression—Particulars of the Business of Raising Sheep.

The question is often asked: What will be the outcome of this seemingly ceaseless strife between the cattlemen and the sheepmen? The eastern man believes sheep rearing will eventually be given over to the farmers, leaving the cattle to roam the unlocated public domain. The idea does not prevail in the plateau regions of the west, writes Capt. James H. McClintock, in Ainslee's. Where there are sheep the cattle must depart. Sheep may exist in propinquity with cattle, but the reverse is not possible. As before told, cattle are stationary, while sheep are necessarily nomadic. When feed is short the sheepman moves his flock to grass. The cattle owner, with his wild and scattered property, may not do this. He thrives or he "goes broke" in a single locality. The cattleman is handicapped at every point of the struggle. His crop matures more slowly. To secure the best results he must wait three or four years till his product is ripened by age. In not over one year out of four will cattle accumulate any respectable amount of fat on the western ranges. The price of the product depends much on the condition of the corn market, for range beef rarely if ever goes to the block direct. A single dry season means also no fat or growth for cattle, and means also no increase for the succeeding year. The tales of cattle barons and of enormous profits in the cattle business belong to the early days, when the plains were covered with knee-deep grass, with water in every gully. At present there is more money in the fattening of steers than there is in the rearing of them on the range. Under favorable conditions there is money in the cattle business, but favorable conditions are rarely present. The plateau region is now in its fourth successive year of drought. Thus it comes that the cattleman is no longer so determined to defend the heath he very reasonably holds his own.

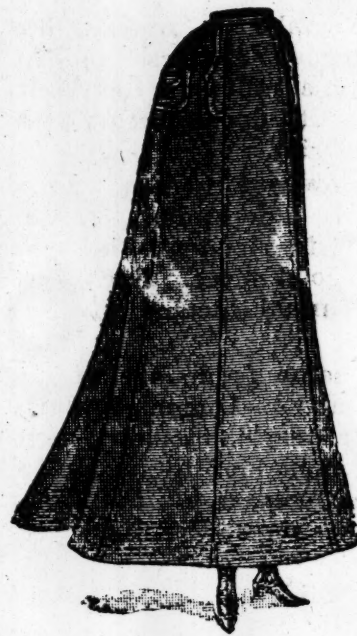

The sheep owner, to begin with, is at considerable expense, for he has to maintain a man with every 2,000 head of his woolies. But he shears once or twice a year, and at the present prices for wool an average half-bred merino will bring him annually from that source alone $1.20. The increase of his flocks is fully 40 per cent. per annum.

He need not wait several years, like his enemy, the cattleman, for entrance to market. His wethers at the present rates bring him $3.50 lean, and five dollars when in good condition, but spring lambs, four months old, are rated in the eastern markets at even a greater price per head than is paid for matured muttons. It is a business of quick returns and ample profits. To be sure, a change in tariff would markedly influence the wool quotations, but were the value of the wool almost to be destroyed, the sheepmen would still be on an equality with the cattle baron. The tendency is emphatically toward the rearing of cattle in compounds, such as are found on the great Maxwell grant of northern New Mexico, while the southwest ranges are being given over to the sheep. A few thousand head are annually fattened for exceptionally choice mutton on the alfalfa pastures of Arizona and south central California, but the owners prefer the lush spring grasses of the plains. The result is the same and the cost is far less.

It cannot be denied that the life of the sheep owner is far from a happy one. He is damned and persecuted on every side, and even the United States government takes a hand in the persecution. The main trouble is with the forestry division of the interior department. It is generally conceded that sheep have an injurious effect on the western water supply. Of course, rain falls upon the sheep as upon the just and unjust—but the forestry expert generally insists, (a) That sheep eat out all underbrush and even young trees, destroying the natural checks to too rapid evaporation, the conservators of the snowfall, and even threatening the future of the forests, deprived of their young growth; (b) that sheep pack the soil and clear away the grasses, thereby creating conditions that deprive the soil of porosity and render the run-off too rapid for the public weal; (c) that sheep herders, with their campfires, are a perpetual menace to the forests and are a prolific cause of destructive fires. Sheep owners deny these allegations specifically and entirely, yet the ideas are adhered to by the men who lead scientific thought in this direction. Even now a commission of eminent scientific experts is poking around in the mountains of Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, attempting to get at the truth of the matter. The sheepmen's associations are welcoming them with effusion, and have contributed liberally toward their proper entertainment and education.

RESIGNATION OF MR. UNDERWOOD.

Our readers will share our regret that Mr. W. I. Underwood, who has for the past several months been city editor of The Telegram, has resigned that position. He has for some time been building up a large correspondence for outside papers. This he desires to give more time to, but would find it impossible to do so while continuing daily work on The Telegram. He therefore finds it more convenient and profitable to resume his old position on the staff of The Patriot, Greensboro's excellent weekly, and thus secure the time necessary for his correspondence. Mr. Underwood is a first-class newspaper man, as his work on The Telegram amply testifies. He has added much to the paper since his connection with it, and it gives the management great pleasure to testify to his faithfulness and excellence. His connection with the paper has been wholly satisfactory, and it gives him up with reluctance.

No one has yet been employed to fill the place resigned by Mr. Underwood, the editor for the present undertaking to do the work of that position, until other services are secured.

TOMORROW.

Today closes one of the most remarkable campaigns the country has ever witnessed. More traveling and more speechmaking have been done than in any other campaign. Both sides are confident. The battle has been lost and won. Tomorrow the result will be registered. Each side makes outlandish claims. On Saturday the official Republican claims went as high as 302, while the Democratic one topped it with 310. Neither of these are likely to be realized, unless the vague and undefined expectations of "a Democratic landslide" are realized. To us it appears that a landslide may be predicted as safely for one side as for the other, in other words, the utmost uncertainty prevails. The following Democratic statement was put out towards the latter part of the week:

For Bryan, Maryland, 8; West Virginia, 6; Virginia, 12; North Carolina, 11; South Carolina, 9; Georgia, 13; Florida, 4; Alabama, 11; Mississippi, 9; Tennessee, 12; Kentucky, 12; Missouri, 17; Arkansas, 8; Louisiana, 8; Texas, 15; Kansas, 10; Nebraska, 8; South Dakota, 4; Colorado, 4; Wyoming, 3; Montana, 3; Utah, 3; Nevada, 3; Idaho, 3. Total, 197.

For McKinley: Maine, 6; New Hampshire, 4; Vermont, 4; Massachusetts, 15; Rhode Island, 4; Connecticut, 6; New Jersey, 10; Pennsylvania, 32; Michigan, 14; Wisconsin, 12; Minnesota, 9; Iowa, 13; Oregon, 4. Total, 133.

Doubtful: New York, 36; Delaware, 3; Ohio, 23; Indiana, 15; Illinois, 24; North Dakota, 3; Washington, 4; California, 9; Total, 117. Necessary to elect, 224.

"Since then 'the reports,' says the National Democrat, 'indicate New York, Indiana, California, Ohio, and Washington as closely Democratic, and justify adding Minnesota and New Jersey to the doubtful list.' If this be true, and Mr. Bryan were to carry the two doubtful states just mentioned, the three hundred and ten estimate would be about reached. But nobody expects this to happen, unless, perhaps, it is Uncle Jim Jones himself. One noticeable thing has been, that the betting on McKinley has kept on increasing in odds as his certainty of election seemed to diminish. Here is the National Watchman's explanation of this:

I find after a careful study of the files of Republican newspapers, that in the campaign of 1884, when Mr. Cleveland was triumphantly elected, the last week of October showed bets made on Blaine at odds of three to one, five to three and two to one. In '88, when Harrison was elected, the October odds on Cleveland averaged two and one-half to one, and in '92, when Cleveland was elected, the October odds on Harrison ran as high as three to one. In every case gamblers bet on the continuance in power of the existing administration, ignoring the historic facts set forth in the first paragraph of this letter.

It has been said all along that the Republicans had more money than they knew what to do with. It is possible that a part of it is being used this way.

Let us abide in patience a few hours and where we see through a glass darkly now, there will be a whole flood of daylight.

IN THE HOUSES OF THE LORD.

"My Faith looks up to Thee" was sung as a quartette last night at the First Presbyterian church by Mesdames D. S. Hogan and R. G. Lea, and Messrs. Z. V. Taylor and G. A. Rankin.

Miss Lola Coraway sang a charming solo as the offertory for West Market church.

Rev. Mr. Holcomb preached twice yesterday at Spring Garden chapel. At both services the house was densely crowded. The interest still seems to be increasing. He will preach again tonight at 7:30. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Gen. Carr Has Educated 25 Girls at G. F. C. To the Editor of The Telegram:

Dr. Peacock authorizes me to say that since redeeming the Greensboro Female College Mr. Carr has educated there "out of his own pocket between twenty-five and thirty needy and deserving girls." Ought not Greensboro to give him an appreciative vote?

Life is full of perversities. It's not until a man joins the church that he realizes that fish bite best on Sunday. "The fellow who is always finding other people's faults," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "seldom loses his own."

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The polar bears of Kodiak island weigh from 2,500 to 3,000 pounds, and none of them has ever been caught alive.

There are 20 large oyster packing establishments in Norfolk, Va., and it is estimated that they handle 2,500,000 bushels annually, representing a value of $2,000,000.

Mount Edgecombe, in Alaska, has one of the largest craters in the world, being five miles in diameter, which is filled with dense forests 2,000 feet below the rim.

A man who owns a cocoanut grove in Venezuela is independent, as the fruit continues to ripen all the year and brings a good price. Each tree averages an annual income of five shillings.

Saddles, in some form, are of the greatest antiquity. Under Tiglath-Pileser III. the Assyrian cavalry were provided with them, and the early Romans used a covering of cloth, hide or skin, which was no doubt very similar.

The public buildings of the United States have cost, since the foundation of the government, exclusive of the buildings in Washington and those employed by the army and navy, $154,775,384. Of this the sites have cost $22,755,167, and there remains $23,843,574 to be expended on these buildings before they are completed.

The increasing dearth of women servants was instanced by Canon Duckworth at a recent meeting of the Society for Promoting the Employment of Women in London. The other day, he said, a young woman who had advertised for a situation as housemaid on the morning after the advertisement received 80 letters, three telegrams, and three personal visits from ladies anxious to engage her.

A marvelous top, capable of spinning 43½ minutes, and then remaining erect and still, has been constructed by Prof. Charles Jacobus, for many years superintendent of the New Brunswick (N. J.) public schools, but now of Springfield, Mass. The inventor of the top guards it carefully, and never allows it to pass out of his hands. He has spun it scores of times before scientists in New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

Chinese Commercial Wealth.
The progress of China in the last 60 years is well illustrated by the fact that when the Yangtze valley was opened, about that many years ago, $500,000 represented all that the Chinese could buy or sell to foreigners, and a few small vessels carried all the freight and passengers. Now all the annual foreign trade of the Yangtze is valued at over $100,000,000, and a larger fleet of ocean and local craft ply between Shanghai and Hankow than on the Columbia, Mississippi and Hudson rivers combined. — Ledger Monthly.

CARR MOST COMPETENT.

His Battles in the Commercial, Political and Financial World for the Past 30 Years Eminently Fit Him for Senatorship.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

When in the past Mr. Simmons put forth his best efforts, as he is believed to have done, to keep together the extreme wings of the Democratic party, to-wit: the Populist and gold men, and when Mr. Carr fought for silver and after Mr. Bryan's defeat on that issue, continued to do the best he could for the State and South under the circumstances, as he is believed to have done, it is wrong for Democrats to attack either of these gentlemen. If either or both of them have made mistakes, which is by no means affirmed, we must in justice to these faithful Democrats, remember that it is more difficult to blaze the way out of impending peril than it is to condemn past actions of others or of ourselves.

Had Mr. Pritchard's term expired now, as Mr. Butler's has, both Messrs. Carr and Simmons would have unquestionably represented us in the next Senate, without a word of dissent from any Democrat. We will need both of the gentlemen again and we had better keep our heads at the present time.

Burying the dead past, let us address ourselves to the living issues of the present hour—which of the two will be able best to serve the State in the Senate? I believe Mr. Carr will. He is the older man of the two. His past experience for thirty years in the commercial, political and financial battles fought by old North Carolina during that time would naturally make him a broader man. All know him to be thoroughly conversant with the currency question and thoroughly acquainted with the handling of the money of the country, by banking and kindred concerns, in all its ramifications and details. Perhaps no other interests wield so wide an influence over the welfare of the people today, as the banking and railroad interests. Carr has shipped and exported abroad a world of freight in his time. He knows the power of freight rates as well as that of interest on money borrowed to kill or make alive. His whole life has pre-eminently fitted him for dealing with these questions. In the present Senate he will collide with men of his own class and training, and that he will be the peer of the ablest of them, his great success, though doing business in the South, conclusively proves. The Senate is not now composed of the mere orators, politicians and military captains who for so many years in the olden times dominated that body. Mr. Carr is already acquainted with and is personally popular with many of the men who this day run this government. It was stated at the time, and not denied, that the social qualities of Senator Ransom saved us from the horror of the force bill in the Senate. The social qualities of the genial and companionable Carr possessed as he is of abundant men's, will make him a great social force with his fellow-Senators.

If there is a man in the South who understands, and for abundant cause, hates trusts, especially the mammoth American Tobacco Company, as I am informed and believe, it is Carr. It is an insult to any intelligent North Carolinian to deny to him that but for Carr's refusal to adopt their methods and his fight against trusts in their robbery of the people, he would have been worth $50 where as it is he is not worth but one. Of all men the people should send Mr. Carr to the Senate, well knowing that in doing so they will make no mistake and run no risk.

JOSEPH M. MOREHEAD.
Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 3, 1900.

Charlotte Observer.

That is a pathetic story copied in another column from The Greensboro Telegram about the appearance of Joe Turner in that city Wednesday and his rambling talk to a handful of idle hearers that night. And yet this poor old man, now in "the lean and slippered pantaloons," was once the greatest force in North Carolina. In the State's dark days, when its vitals were being torn by aliens and renegade natives, this now old man, then editor of The Raleigh Sentinel, with marvellous ability, with superb nerve, the object of frequent personal attack, carrying his life always in his hand, stood forth and with unshaken courage gave battle to the enemies of his people until he routed them, driving them from place and power. His victory made him the idol of the State as his fight with the horde which confronted him had made him its admiration. But—perhaps the acclaim of the people turned his head a little. At all events, he had grown too great—he was in the way. It may be just as well to draw the curtain here. His power declined and he passed into obscurity. And now we have the pitiful picture from Greensboro.

The Matter of Supporting.

Durham Herald.

It seems that the Caucasian supports Mr. Carr and that Mr. Simmons supports the Caucasian.

Not a Success Always.

Durham Herald.

Mr. Simmons is a successful chairman, of course, but he has not succeeded in stirring up much enthusiasm for the national ticket during this campaign.

CLUTTER PLACES.

Such Closets Are Apt to Become When They Are Not Properly Attended To.

There is a popular notion that the woman who builds a house first remembers the closets and pantries, and groups the necessary rooms around them. This, says the New York Tribune, is because the average masculine builder is apt to be sadly remiss in arranging a sufficient number of closets. It is quite possible to have too many closets, especially when these little rooms are built without ventilation or sufficient light. It is better to have a few large closets lighted and ventilated, so that there is no danger of their being storage places for impure air, than it is to have a large number of small shut-in places which are so dark that they are certain to become clutter places. It is not desirable to have places where the worn household or the personal belongings of the family can be shoved out of sight and remain forgotten to everything but moth and mold. This is what a dark closet only ventilated from the room into which it opens is apt to become.

A clothes closet cannot be properly built without a small window to light and ventilate it. Even when this is provided clothes that are dank with perspiration or full of the dust and germs of outdoor streets should not be hung in them. When a street wrap or dress is taken off it should be dusted well at first, and, if necessary, hung in the fresh air in front of an open window to free it from all dampness of perspiration before it is hung in the closet. A fine dress, or one of very delicate color, which is likely to fade from long exposure to the light, may be hung in a bag of coarse unbleached muslin. Make such a bag of ample size, and drop the skirt into it, hanging it up at the two upper corners. The waists of such dresses should be folded and laid in bureau or closet drawers.

MAKING BOYS' CLOTHES.

Boys are not generally supposed to know or care a great deal about fashion, but they would be saved from much mortification if their mothers would exercise greater judgment in the selection or making of their apparel. The small girl is usually a dainty enough object in her fluffy skirts to satisfy the soul of the most exigent. It's not so with the lads, however, most of them being atrociously dressed, not to put too fine a point on it. The average mother seems to regard her long, lanky, thin-legged, freckled and tanned son as a thing of beauty that needs only adornment to call down upon his head the bravos of an admiring world. Therefore she puts on him a white duck blouse, very short trousers and white socks, that display to much advantage his scrawny legs, and adorns his cropped hair with a broad-brimmed hat with ribbons that would suit a chubby Cupid-like child of four, but is absolutely unfitted to the boy who has attained the magnificent age of eight or ten, says a domestic exchange.

The average small boy regards his fauntleroy costume with absolute loathing when he begins to think about clothes at all. He longs with intense yearning for a collar that stands up stiffly and proudly and for a pair of stockings that do not leave so much to be desired.

They do these things better in England. There the lad of ten has his stiff shirt and collar and hat, his long trousers and Eton jacket. He's done with ribbons by eight and he's not expected unblushingly to face the world and display his mosquito-bitten legs, to his endless embarrassment, after he's acquired the dignity of having his hair cut close.

Tomato Jelly Salad.

Let simmer together for 15 minutes one pint of stewed tomatoes, four cloves, one bay leaf, one blade of mace, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika, and ten drops of onion juice. Press through a fine sieve, and add one-third of a box of gelatine which has been soaked for one hour in one-third of a cupful of cold water. Stir until dissolved, add two tablespoonfuls of tarragon vinegar, and pour into wet individual molds. When firm turn out on lettuce leaves, and garnish with mayonnaise.—Home Magazine.

8108—Ladies' Empire Gown.
32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust.

LADIES' EMPIRE GOWN, NO. 8108, TO BE MADE HIGH OR LOW NECK, WITH FULL LENGTH OR SHORT PUFF SLEEVES.

This graceful toilette is daintily developed in canary crepe de chine with ribbon of the same color and a ruffle of pure white lace.

It is made over a fitted lining which closes in the center back. The short body is adjusted at a round yoke depth, puffing out slightly in front, but drawn down close to the lining in the back and under the arms. The ruffle of lace outlines the rounded yoke.

The full straight skirt is made with a decided sweep, which is very graceful. The upper edge is gathered and adjusted at the lower edge of the short body.

The sleeves may be full length with a short puff, or only the puff finished with a ribbon fold as illustrated, and worn with long gloves. A crush belt of ribbon fastened under a rosette with long ends adds a final touch to the toilette.

The gown may be made high neck with a collar if so desired. Cashmere, albatross, silk muslin, India or China silks are appropriate for this mode, which is suitable for house or evening wear.

To make the gown in the medium size will require five and one-half yards of forty-four-inch material. The pattern, No. 8108, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40-inch bust measure.

THE TELEGRAM will receive and forward orders for all patterns described in this column. The price is only ten cents for each pattern to cover cost of mailing and handling. In ordering fill blank below and send to The Telegram office:

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure and so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac. Grissom & Fordham.

Lots of fellows who sit up all night in a poker game find themselves broke when the day breaks.

If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles.

Some successful men begin at the foot of the ladder, while others try another climb.

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cts. CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance—or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestige of it driven out. This S. S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows: A small pimple came on my jaw about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. It gave me no pain or inconvenience, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to inflame and itch; it would bleed a little, then scab over, but could not heal. This continued for some time, when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful. The Cancer began to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar, when I heard of S. S. S. and determined to give it a fair trial, and it was remarkable what a wonderful effect it had from the very beginning; the sore began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general health continues good.—Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo.

SSS is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable. Send for our free book on Cancer, containing valuable and interesting information about this disease, and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for medical advice. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

BABY FOODS

It is clear that doctors and mothers think more of special foods than they used to.

The reasons are: (1) both mothers and babies live less naturally than they used to; (2) mother's milk is not so plenty, and not so good, as it used to be; (3) Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is mother food as well as baby food—enables the mother to feed her baby naturally.

We'll send you a little to try if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.
